

ENEDA KLEMO

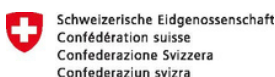

"I opened the bio-organic pharmacy that was so much needed in the market"

Eneda Klemo, a 38-year-old pharmacist from Durrës, opened a bio-organic pharmacy after completing training in organic skin care. She says that the training received was really beneficial to her, since now she was able to offer organic products created by herself to her clients.

Eneda is proud of the new service provided by her and the positive impact it has had on her patients' confidence. She has also been engaged as a lecturer at ACE, sharing her knowledge with peers and new students.

Why did Eneda become an inspirational success story?

"In 2022, I was looking for a training course on cosmetic or dermatological skin care. I came across an announcement on Instagram about the 3-month training course that the ACE Course Center was providing on organic care. I found it very interesting and enrolled in it," says Eneda with a pleasant conversational pace.

According to her, attending training courses was a novelty for her activity. "I am a pharmacist and I thought about how much this training would be useful in my daily work. It would make my business stand out from the other numerous pharmacies on the market."

Confident in the new orientation that would benefit her, Eneda became one of the best trainees of the ACE Course Center.

"I am going to provide the newest service in organic skin care", was always on her mind and she appears to be proud of what she has achieved so far. Now that the training is over, the benefits are clearly enormous. She created the Bio Organic Pharmacy and is accredited by ACE as a manufacturer of Organic Skin Care Products. When asked about the pharmacy, Eneda says that now when a patient presents to the pharmacy with a specific skin problem, she offers them a solution in addition to organic products. As a pharmacist, she now offers patients the alternative of organic products that she creates herself using the formulas she learned during the training course. The new organic Skin Care service has gained patients' trust in Eneda as a pharmacist, especially as she says "when they get the desired effect".

Eneda's story does not end there. The training she received gave a very positive impetus to her professional development, so her wish now is to embark on other paths to progress: she later became an Organic Care lecturer at the ACES center, inspiring her fellow pharmacists and others. Training of Trainers (ToT) sessions are the most useful actions to attend for anyone who dreams of having a profession dedicated to Organic Skin Care.

Eneda trained in ToT as a curriculum developer, was hired as an instructor at ACE for the Organic Skin Care course, thus being the only internal instructor, as until then these courses were taught by foreign instructors online.

Eneda brought a new and encouraging spirit to practical courses, inspiring others with her story. "The new teaching experience in Skin Care/Cosmetics courses is as interesting as the very first training experience," says Eneda, explaining how much she enjoys combining the two together today. She emphasizes that the experience gained in all ACE courses served as the strongest turning point in her new professional life, which she enjoys so much. She feels the joy of a dream come true. Albania Craftsman Education is a short-term vocational course center with 70% of practical training dominating over 30% of theoretical training. Course trainees are mainly between 18-35 years of age. The primary goal and mission of the center is to support their trainees with their startups, where ACE helps in drafting concrete business & marketing plans. In collaboration with RisiAlbania, training of instructors (ToT) has been facilitated by local and international experts in order to make vocational training at ACE as easy and cost-effective as possible.
